The author seeks to explain murders of police officers in 190 cities during four time periods (1987, 1990, 1993, and 1996). Homicides of police officers are primarily a function of exposure and proximity to motivated offenders. The murders of police officers are determined by criminogenic structural conditions, arrest activity, and the number of officers deployed in the field.

Bosco received a call on the way and left the team on his own. There is no news so far. Location: Last night near Lingshi Hospital. Please help share! !! !! Postscript I did not participate in the current hiking activities, the police have reported. This is Bosco Kwok in the Facebook post. His name is Guo Weinuo, 20 years old, an air-conditioning technician apprentice, living with his parents and brother in Anning Garden, Tseung Kwan O. On the night of the disappearance on May 27, 2017, Guo Weinuo had dinner with his family. He wore camouflage uniforms and full field equipment at 11 o'clock in the evening. He told his family to make friends for a field game (war game). , Still not home. His mother asked Guo Weinuo's friends to know that Guo Weinuo and three field fans went to Wugui Mountain to fight fieldwork that night. A fellow friend suggested that Guo Weinuo received a "rescue" at 3:20 am, and left the team to find a way to feed alone and lost the news. Guo Weinuo's family searched for nothing but suspected that he was in danger on his way down the mountain. He may report at 1pm on May 28, 2017. The police then joined the fire and civil security teams in search and rescue. Search and rescue personnel set up a temporary command center in Lantian Park in the evening, and sent a search dog to join the civil security team. They searched overnight in the mountains around Lantian Park, Aoqing Road, and Lingshi Hospital. The firefighting, civil security and flight service helicopters searched in Wugui Mountain. Wugui Mountain is about 304 meters high. It is the third section of the Wilson Trail. From Lam Tin to Tseung Kwan O, the main entrance of the Lam Tin section is at O King Road and Lam Tin Park. The two entrances are completely stone-leveled, which is convenient for mountain walkers. The mountain road along the way is not rugged, and the nearby dense forests are full of hills. At 3 am on May 29, the firefighting found the blood-stained rucksack belonging to Guo Weinuo in Wugui Mountain and thought it was suspicious. Twenty-nine hours after the disappearance, at 8:24 am on May 29, the searchers fell on the hillside of Mount Guangui towards Lantian Guangtian Village, about three meters from the slope, and found Guo Weinuo wearing camouflage uniform on the corpse ground. . The deceased's dead body took about 45 minutes to reach from the entrance of O King Road, over two hills, and another 40 minutes to walk from Lam Tin Park on the other side. The mountain road is relatively steep. Senior Police Officer of the Regional Crime Unit, East Kowloon, Jiang Zhiquan searched the body of the deceased. The deceased's head was trapped in a white sack and tied up with brown hemp rope. The deceased's trouser pocket contained a black key bag, a blood stained paper, and a brown wallet with an ID card, bank card and cash. Police Constable Deng Qinyu found a black airgun stained with blood while searching. New Territories North Tactical Police officer Liang Xiaomin found a black mirror arm during the search and confirmed that the exhibit had been seized. New Territories North Tactical Police officer Zhou Rongfa found a 15 x 15 cm camouflage bag with blood on the surface during the search operation. East Kowloon Mobile Police Sergeant Wen Guojian, in a search operation, found a dried blood-stained iron pass and a folding knife. Forensic doctor Pan Weiming arrived at the scene and found that the deceased had bruises in various parts of his body. He believed that he had been beaten, suffered head, complications, and had multiple wounds on his face caused by the knife. This caused the wound to be cut and the throat was suspected to be a fatal wound. . The case was classified as a homicide case. The police believed that the deceased was attacked on a mountain trail and then pushed down the mountain. The police blocked the scene of the homicide and were guarded overnight by uniformed police officers. The case was referred to the Second Squad of East Kowloon Region for investigation. Detectives knew that Guo Weinuo was a field enthusiast. When he was seventeen, he became obsessed with field games. When he had spare money, he collected various U.S. special forces' shirts and firearms. Participated in a field game three years ago. About one year ago, I met another group of field enthusiasts because of online shopping. They bought equipment through them, but they were often "stupid". After several transactions, Guo Weinuo discovered that the seller Yan Ruheng (Ma Tian) was deceiving and blamed on the Internet. Yan Ruheng was dissatisfied and threatened to kill Guo Weinuo. The agent believes that the motive may be involved. However, there is another version of the "Stupid" incident. Field enthusiast Tan Jiawei (nickname "MT"), has known Guo Weinuo for nearly eight years and meets every week. He often commissions Guo Weinuo to purchase field equipment. Before the case, Tan Jiawei asked Guo Weinuo to purchase "night vision goggles". Guo Weinuo quoted a price of 35,000 yuan. Tan Jiawei was later introduced by another field friend Zhou Zhengxian and knew Yan Ruheng, a decoration worker. He is a seller of field equipment. Yan Ruheng said that the same "night vision goggles" were available for 31,000 yuan. Tan Jiawei later learned that Guo Weinuo had obtained goods from Yan Ruheng to make a difference. When he questioned Guo Weinuo, the other party denied three times. Tan Jiawei said, "If you are not my Martin (Yan Ruheng), you won't even say it. I asked you three times. Forget it, you." Guo Weinuo responded: "I know I'm too good. I tell you what I know, I'd rather beat you for a meal now." The three who traveled uphill with Guo Weinuo were invited to the police station to assist in the investigation after the incident. The three included Yan Ruheng, Huang Langqi (Cat), and Guo Jianuo's friend Zhao Jiajin. Zhao Jiajin (nicknamed "Zero Five"), who had taken a mechanical course at the Hong Kong Institute of Vocational Education and worked part-time at a field equipment store. He said that Guo Weinuo was looking for him that night, and he had asked Yan Ruheng to fight the field. Be bold! ". The Zhao family entered Guo Weinuo's house to join him and set off together. Zhao Jiajin joined Guo Weinuo, Yan Ruheng, and Huang Langqi together to Wugui Mountain. The road was dark that day, and everyone talked along the way. At about three in the morning, Yan Ruheng suggested that Zhao Jiajin and Huang Langqi sit down and chat at the next rock on the top of Wugui Mountain. Yan Ruheng and Guo Weinuo went to the mountain for a "test run". Half an hour later, the Zhao family saw Yan Ruheng gasping down the mountain alone to meet them. Yan Ruheng told Zhao Jiajin that Guo Weinuo received a telephone message and took an earlier fast path down the mountain and would not return. Yan Ruheng, Huang Langqi and Zhao Jiajin went down the mountain together and broke up at the foot of the mountain. Zhao Jiajin was worried about Guo Weinuo. When he called him, the phone was not connected, and he learned that Guo Weinuo disappeared until Sunday afternoon. Later, he circulated news in social groups. He also assisted his friends on Facebook. Look for. Detectives later found Wu Xinghao, who knew Yan Ruheng and Guo Weinuo at the same time. He was a member of the WhatsApp Group's "midnight outing". Wu Xinghao said that a group of people in the "Midnight Outing Group" had a dinner in mid-April 2017, and he recalled that Guo Weinuo was mentioned in the dinner at that time as "a good wild." Yan Ruheng said to Wu Xinghao: "Have a trip with Bosco to the mountain. Wu Xinghao said that Yan Ruheng and Zhou Zhengxian successfully made an appointment with Guo Weinuo on May 26, 2017. Yan Ruheng said in a collective: "When I isolate him, I will bring him down", meaning Guo When Wei Nuo "places an order", Yan Ruheng will "down" him. After seeing the relevant information, Wu Xinghao thought that Yan Ruheng "would be doing something bad for Guo Weinuo." After the incident, he learned through news reports that Guo Weinuo was killed and killed. The agent asked, "Do you think Yan Ruheng wants to rectify Guo Weinuo?" Wu Xinghao said, "I think it must be a whole thing." After Guo Weinuo's body was delivered to the mortuary, he was examined by a forensic doctor. Forensic doctor Pan Weiming estimated that the deceased died on May 27 or May 28. The cause of death was a head laceration and a large amount of bleeding caused by stab wounds. The deceased Guo Weinuo weighed nearly 90 kilograms. A stab wound to the jaw and complications was found during the autopsy. It is estimated that the deep puncture to the vein caused a large amount of bleeding, the head skin had a laceration, and a 4x3 cm split fracture near the temple. The evidence showed that there was a blood stain on the deceased, weighing 1.1 kilograms of iron pass. The injury of the deceased should be caused by a hard object. The iron pass may cause injuries to the deceased. The bruises and bleeding of the deceased may be caused by punching, kicking or rolling down the hillside, and the head laceration may be caused by a long hard object. Rolling down the hillside does not necessarily cause heavy bleeding in the skull of the deceased, but may cause the deceased to enter a coma. At 7.15 on the morning of May 29, Senior Sergeant Huang Yaoguang of the East Kowloon Regional Crime Squad and plain-clothed police officer arrived at Zhou Zhengxian's house and presented the certificate of appointment. Senior Sergeant Huang Yaoguang arrested Zhou Zhengxian for murder. When he arrested Zhou Zhengxian, he noticed that he was wounded and that the wound was coked. Zhou Zhengxian called under caution: "Sir, I killed Bosco, and I buried my mobile phone on my backpack." Zhou Zhengxian was born in Hong Kong in 1996. He studied at Kwun Tong Government Secondary School until he graduated from Form 6. He was an assistant to the Ferry of the Marine Department before his arrest. He has no criminal record and lives with his parents. Zhou Zhengxian told the agent that the deceased had swallowed the money for selling his belt and sold him the failed radio walkie-talkie. He refused to refund the 3.8 million afterwards. After discussing the two, they decided to go up the mountain in the name of Xing Yeshan, discuss the dispute with the deceased, or rectify the deceased. The deceased attacked on the mountain, and attacked the two with air guns and Tietong. Yan Ruheng snatched the Tietong of the deceased, struck his nose, and beat on the deceased. He stopped until he asked for mercy. Finally found that the dead had died, Zhou Zhengxian told Yan Ruheng to leave, and he would take care of it. After Huang Yaoguang and Zhou Zhengxian recorded their statements, they corrected them and gave them to Zhou Zhengxian for signature. Police officers then searched Zhou Zhengxian's residence and found his mobile phone. He asked Zhou Zhengxian to surrender the phone unlock password. Zhou Zhengxian himself said his phone unlock password. Police officer Zai Chang searched at Zhou Zhengxian's house and found a black iPhone 7 Plus mobile phone wrapped in transparent bubble paper inside a backpack of Zhou Zhengxian. It was later confirmed that the dead was Guo Weinuo's phone.

The manner in which criminal investigators are trained is neither uniform nor consistent, ranging from sophisticated training protocols in some departments to on-the-job experience alongside senior investigators in others. Ideal for students taking a first course in the subject as well as professionals in need of a refresher, Introduction to Crimin

There is little argument that mass media news projects a particular point of view. The question is how that bias is formed. Most media critics look to the attitudes of reporters and editors, the covert news policy of a publisher, or the outside pressures of politicians and advertisers. Manufacturing the News takes a different tack. Mark Fishman ' s research shows how the routine methods of gathering news, rather than any hidden manipulators, determine the ideological character of the product. News organizations cover the world mainly through " beats, " which tend to route reporters exclusively through governmental agencies and corporate bureaucracies in their search for news. Crime, for instance, is covered through the police and court bureaucracies; local politics through the meetings of the city council, county commissioners, and other official agencies. Reporters under daily deadlines come to depend upon these organizations for the predictable, steady flow of raw news material they provide. It is part of the function of such bureaucracies to transform complex happenings into procedurally defined " cases. " Thus the information they produce for newswriters represents their own bureaucratic reality. Occurrences which are not part of some bureaucratic phase are simply ignored. Journalists participate in this system by publicizing bureaucratic reality as hard fact, while accounts from other sources are treated as unconfirmed reports which cannot be published without time-consuming investigation. Were journalists to employ different methods of news gathering, Fishman concludes, a different reality would emerge in the news—one that might challenge the legitimacy of prevailing political structures. But, under the traditional system, news reports will continue to support the interests of the status quo independently of the attitudes and intentions of reporters, editors, and news sources.
